

02 April, 2020

IOE-ITUC digital summit:

“What needs to happen next in Covid-19 response”

A powerful and balanced voice for business

AGENDA

- Welcome by IOE President Erol Kiresepi and ITUC General-Secretary Sharan Burrow
- Presentation by Ahmad Alzahrani, Deputy Minister and Chair of the G20 Employment Working Group, about G20 measures to address the pandemic.
- Presentation by Anousheh Karvar, Government Representative to the ILO Governing Body & Labour & Employment Sherpa to G7-G20, on the French experience on engaging with Employers and Workers in determine the COVID-19 response.
- Presentation by Guy Ryder, ILO Director-General, on the ILO`s approach and recommendations on what needs to happen to address the employment challenges of COVID-19.
- Presentation by IOE Secretary-General Roberto Suarez and ITUC General-Secretary Sharan Burrow on the employers` and workers` priorities on the international response to the pandemic.
- Open discuss on what needs to happen next.
- Conclusions by IOE Secretary-General Roberto Suarez and ITUC General-Secretary Sharan Burrow

Call for action

- A worldwide challenge: efficient global response
- We are witnessing more than a pandemic
- Health as a top priority/ how to assure “continuity”
- “Devastating effects”
- Focused, efficient and impact-proven measures
- Innovative approach
- Reach the real economy

Call for action

- Self-employees, vulnerable individuals, SMEs
- Informality
- Global supply chains: becoming humanitarian
- Never before a call to join global efforts was so pertinent
- Role of social partners: responsibility
- Look at how to resume activity
- How to assure a quick recovery

Thank you.
Stay Safe, stay connected.

For updated information, follow us on Twitter  @ioevoice

